

(b) the principal officer of the private adoption agency informs the Director that he is willing to assume the guardianship of the child, the principal officer from time to time of the private adoption agency is the guardian of the child in lieu of the Director, but otherwise in accordance with the last preceding sub-section.

(3.) The preceding provisions of this section do not apply to a child who is a ward within the meaning of the law of the Territory relating to child welfare and for whose guardianship provision is made by that law.

Division 3.—Effect of Adoption Orders.

General effect of adoption
orders.

33.—(1.) For the purposes of the laws of the Territory, but subject to this Ordinance and to the provisions of any law of the Territory that expressly distinguishes in any way between adopted children and children other than adopted children, upon the making of an adoption order—

- (a) the adopted child becomes a child of the adopter or adopters, and the adopter or adopters become the parent or parents of the child, as if the child had been born to the adopter or adopters in lawful wedlock;
- (b) the adopted child ceases to be a child of any person who was a parent (whether natural or adoptive) of the child before the making of the adoption order, and any such person ceases to be a parent of the child;
- (c) the relationship to one another of all persons (including the adopted child and an adoptive parent or former parent of the adopted child) shall be determined on the basis of the foregoing provisions of this sub-section so far as they are relevant;
- (d) any existing appointment of a person, by will or deed, as guardian of the adopted child ceases to have effect; and
- (e) any previous adoption of the child (whether effected under the law of the Territory or otherwise) ceases to have effect.

(2.) Notwithstanding the last preceding sub-section, for the purposes of any law of the Territory relating to a sexual offence, being a law for the purposes of which the relationship between persons is relevant, an adoption order, or the discharge of an adoption order, does not cause the cessation of any relationship that would have existed if the adoption order, or the discharging order, as the case may be, had not been made, and any such relationship shall be deemed to exist in addition to any relationship that exists by virtue of the application of that sub-section in relation to that adoption order or by virtue of the discharge of that adoption order.

34.—(1.) The provisions of sub-section (1.) of the last preceding section have effect in relation to dispositions of property, whether by will or otherwise, and whether made before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, except that—

Effect of orders as regards dispositions of property, &c.

- (a) those provisions do not affect a disposition of property by a person who, or by persons any of whom, died before the commencement of this Ordinance; and
- (b) those provisions do not affect a disposition of property that has taken effect in possession before the commencement of this Ordinance.

(2.) The provisions of sub-section (1.) of the last preceding section do not apply in relation to an agreement or instrument (not being a disposition of property) made or executed before the commencement of this Ordinance.

(3.) Where—

- (a) before the commencement of this Ordinance, a person made, by an instrument other than a will, a disposition of property;
- (b) the disposition had not taken effect in possession before the commencement of this Ordinance; and
- (c) it did not appear from the instrument that it was the intention of that person to include adopted children as objects of the disposition, that person may, notwithstanding that the instrument could not, apart from this sub-section, be revoked or varied, by a like instrument, vary the first-mentioned instrument to exclude adopted children (whether adopted under this Ordinance or otherwise) from participation in any right, benefit or privilege under the instrument.

(4.) In relation to a disposition of property by a person who, or by persons any of whom, died before the commencement of this Ordinance, an adoption order made under this Ordinance has the same effect as if the repealed Ordinances had continued in force and the adoption order had been made under those Ordinances.

(5.) Nothing in the last preceding section or in this section affects the operation of any provision in a will or other instrument (whether made or coming into operation before or after the commencement of this Ordinance) distinguishing between adopted children and children other than adopted children.

Names of
adopted child.

35.—(1.) Subject to the next succeeding sub-section, upon the making of an adoption order, the adopted child shall have as his surname the surname of the adoptive parent or parents and shall have as his forename or forenames such name or names as the Court, in the adoption order, approves on the application of the adoptive parent or parents.

(2.) Where, before the making of the adoption order, the adopted child has been generally known by a particular surname, the Court may, in the adoption order, order that the child shall have that name as his surname.

(3.) Nothing in this section prevents the changing of any name of an adopted child, after the making of the adoption order, in accordance with the law of the Territory.

Effect of
domicile.

36.—(1.) Subject to this section, upon the making of an adoption order, the adopted child acquires the domicile of the adoptive parent or parents at the date of the adoption order and the child's domicile thereafter shall be determined as if the child had been born in lawful wedlock to that parent or those parents.

(2.) The domicile acquired, upon the making of the order, by the child under the last preceding sub-section shall be deemed to be also the child's domicile of origin.

Adoption order not to affect the distribution of property by trustees or personal representatives
given.

37.—(1.) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Ordinance, trustees or personal representatives may, subject to this section, convey, transfer or distribute property to or among the persons appearing to be entitled to the property without having ascertained whether or not an adoption has been effected by virtue of which a person is or is not entitled to an interest in the property.

(2.) A trustee or personal representative conveying, transferring or distributing property in the manner referred to in the last preceding sub-section shall not be liable to a person claiming directly or indirectly by virtue of an adoption unless the trustee or personal representative has notice of the claim before the time of the conveyance, transfer or distribution.

(3.) Nothing in this section prejudices the right of a person to follow property into the hands of a person, other than a purchaser for value, who has received it.

Division 4.—Interim Orders.

Making of
interim orders.

38.—(1.) Upon an application to the Court for an order for the adoption of a child, the Court may postpone the determination of the application and make an interim order for the custody of the child in favour of the applicants.

(2.) An interim order may be subject to such terms and conditions relating to the maintenance, education and welfare of the child as the Court thinks fit.

(3.) The Court shall not make an interim order in respect of a child in favour of any persons unless the Court could lawfully make an order for the adoption of that child by those persons.

(4.) While an interim order remains in force in respect of a child, the persons in whose favour the order is made are entitled to the care and custody of the child.

39.—(1.) Subject to this Division, an interim order remains in force for such period, not exceeding one year, as the Court specifies in the order and for such further periods, if any, as the Court may from time to time order.

Duration of interim orders.

(2.) An interim order shall not be in force for periods exceeding in the aggregate two years.

40.—(1.) The Court may, at any time, make an order discharging an interim order made under this Division or an interim order made under the repealed Ordinances, and may make such order for the care and custody of the child as it thinks fit.

Discharge of interim orders.

(2.) An interim order, whether under this Ordinance or under the repealed Ordinances, ceases to have effect upon the making of an order for the adoption of that child, whether made in the Territory or in a State or another Territory of the Commonwealth.

PART V.—RECOGNITION OF ADOPTIONS.

41. In this Part, “country” includes a part of a country.

Definition.

42. For the purposes of the laws of the Territory, the adoption of a person (whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance) in a State, or in another Territory of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the law of that State or other Territory has, so long as it has not been rescinded under the law in force in that State or other Territory, the same effect as an adoption order made in the Territory under this Ordinance, and has no other effect.

Recognition of Australian adoptions.

43.—(1.) For the purposes of the laws of the Territory, the adoption of a person (whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance) in a country outside the Commonwealth and the Territories of the Commonwealth, being an adoption to which this section applies, has, so long as it has not been rescinded under the law of that country, the same effect as an adoption order under this Ordinance.

Recognition of foreign adoptions.

- (2.) This section applies to an adoption in a country if—
- (a) the adoption was effective according to the law of that country;
  - (b) at the time at which the legal steps that resulted in the adoption were commenced, the adopter, or each of the adopters, was resident or domiciled in that country;
  - (c) in consequence of the adoption, the adopter or adopters had, or would (if the adopted person had been a young child) have had, immediately following the adoption, according to the law of that country, a right superior to that of any natural parent of the adopted person in respect of the custody of the adopted person; and
  - (d) under the law of that country the adopter or adopters were, by virtue of the adoption, placed generally in relation to the adopted person in the position of a parent or parents.

(3.) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, a court (including a court dealing with an application under the next succeeding section) may refuse to recognize an adoption as being an adoption to which this section applies if it appears to the court that the procedure followed, or the law applied, in connexion with the adoption involved a denial of natural justice or did not comply with the requirements of substantial justice.

(4.) Where, in any proceedings before a court (including proceedings under the next succeeding section), the question arises whether an adoption is one to which this section applies, it shall be presumed, unless the contrary appears from the evidence, that the adoption complies with the requirements of sub-section (2.) of this section and has not been rescinded.

(5.) Except as provided in this section, the adoption of a person (whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance) in a country outside the Commonwealth and the Territories of the Commonwealth does not have effect for the purposes of the laws of the Territory.

(6.) Nothing in this section affects any right that was acquired by, or became vested in, a person before the commencement of this Ordinance.

44.—(1.) A person specified in the next succeeding sub-section may apply to the Court for an order declaring that an adoption of a person was effected (whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance) under the law of a country outside the Commonwealth and the Territories of the Commonwealth, and that the adoption is one to which the last preceding section applies, and the Court may hear and determine the application and, if it thinks fit, make an order accordingly.

Declarations of validity of foreign adoptions.

(2.) The persons who may make an application under the last preceding sub-section in relation to an adoption are the adopted child, the adoptive parent or either or both of the adoptive parents, or a person tracing a relationship, by virtue of the adoption, through or to the adopted child.

(3.) Where an application is made under this section, the Court may—

- (a) direct that notice of the application be given to such persons (who may include the Attorney-General) as the Court thinks fit;
- (b) direct that a person be made a party to the application; or
- (c) permit a person having an interest in the matter to intervene in, and become a party to, the proceedings.

(4.) Where the Court makes an order upon the application, it may include in the order such particulars in relation to the adoption, the adopted child and the adoptive parent or parents as the Court finds to be established.

(5.) For the purposes of the laws of the Territory, an order under this section binds the Crown in right of the Commonwealth, whether or not notice was given to the Attorney-General, but, except as provided in the next succeeding sub-section, does not affect—

- (a) the rights of another person unless that person was—
  - (i) a party to the proceedings for the order or a person claiming through such a party; or
  - (ii) a person to whom notice of the application for the order was given or a person claiming through such a person; or
- (b) an earlier judgment, order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(6.) In proceedings in a court of the Territory, being proceedings relating to the rights of a person other than a person referred to in sub-paragraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph (a) of the last preceding sub-section, the production of a copy of the order, certified by the Registrar of the Supreme Court to be a true copy, shall be evidence that an adoption was effected in accordance with the particulars contained in the order and that the adoption is one to which the last preceding section applies.

PART VI.—OFFENCES.

45. This Part does not apply in respect of acts occurring outside the Territory but, except to the extent to which the contrary intention appears, does apply in respect of acts done in the Territory in relation to the adoption of children in, or children

&c., of adopted

A person who was the father or mother or a guardian of a child but has, by reason of an adoption of the child, ceased to be the father or mother or a guardian of the child shall not take, lead, entice or decoy the child away, or detain the child, with intent to deprive the adopters of the child of possession of the child.

(2.) A person shall not receive or harbour a child on behalf of a person who, to his knowledge, has taken, led, enticed or decoyed the child away, or is detaining the child, in contravention of the last preceding sub-section.

- (c) any other payment or reward authorized by the Director or by the Court.

(3.) Sub-section (1.) of this section does not apply to or in relation to a payment or reward in connexion with an adoption or proposed adoption under the law of a State or of another Territory of the Commonwealth if the making of the payment or the giving of the reward, or the agreeing to make the payment or give the reward, would have been lawful if it had taken place in that State or other Territory.

Penalty: One hundred pounds or imprisonment for three months.
